

VALUE OF LIFE

I wake up every morning, thanking the Almighty God to grace me with another day on earth. I grow every day physically, emotionally and spiritually watching my dear and near ones going to Church, following the commandments and rituals laid down. I am introduced to the influential personalities of the Church to derive positivity and reflect my life on the right directions keeping their theories in mind. To name few whom I look upon are St. Francis of D'Assisi St. Theresa of Calcutta, St. Lawrence, St. Anthony of Padua. These and many more are the pillars of our church belief and strengthen our purpose of living.

God sent his only beloved Son to redeem us from our sins and make us realise the importance and meaning of "Life" in this world. What God has created, we as human beings should be able to nurture and embrace it. Born into a Roman Catholic family where God is the Head of our family, every decision, every wish, every blessing is laid unto his feet. The feeling of belonging and acceptance brings joy to my heart.

These days, we are going through the very important month of our Christian life "LENT". Where we are made to realise, that all are born from dust and to dust we shall all return. But the real meaning of this period is to cherish life and live it to its fullest which includes following the values of the Church.

The values of the church, the teaching of religious patrons and the love of my family, embraces and goes a long way in developing my thinking in making decisions which affects me as an individual and my community where my being depends upon.

As I go through an adolescence phase, the emphasis lies whether can I make a difference in atleast one person's life? Yes, I can. It is the way we look at life. The support and teaching from my family, my friends, my neighbours, my community and my church. Every such institution are placed like pillars in my life

Pillar of strength and pillar of hope. I am fortunate and give grace to Almighty God to having graced me with such lovely people around me and in return, I will return and contribute in the well being of others. Everyone has right to living, in every small and big way. There is no barrier or expectation of perfection, but there has to be a sense of belonging.

Be it children, man, women, elderly and the unborn everyone should be given equal opportunity to survive with grace and dignity. This is the teaching of the Church and this is the response to the calling of GOD to spread love, joy, happiness around you and to all those who meet you.

Honouring New Life and Respecting MANKIND.

So going forward with positivity, I start a fresh day with spark of HOPE, LOVE AND CARE to my fellow being, spreading the most contagious thing SMILE!!!

GOD BLESS ALL.....
